Season's Greetings

From The Management

And Staff Of

The Canyon News

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

I go along with raises for elected county officials with certain reservations.

My position on these reservations is not new. I have expressed it many times before in this column and have talked privately about it to the people involved.

I am in complete accord with a raise for the Sheriff's Department. It probably is the hardest working department in the county government.

Sheriff Slim Johnson has assembled a fine force which serves the county well. Plans call for raising salaries of deputies 20 percent. I think this move is past due.

Deputies work six days a week and are on call 24 hours a day.

We are now paying a living wage to all our elected county officials. I think they owe the county 50 weeks of work a year with scheduled vacations arranged through commissioners court.

Both the Randall County Criminal District attorney and the county judge are now drawing a living wage. District Attorney George Dowlen will be drawing $11,730 annually and County Judge Carroll Brown is drawing more than $13,000.

I think these gentlemen owe the taxpayers of Randall County a year's work for a year's pay. At present, both maintain private law practices.

Judge Brown has an office in Amarillo and District Attorney Dowlen an office here in Canyon. I think it is all right for these gentlemen to practice law, but only on Saturdays and before 8 o'clock in the morning and after 5 in the afternoon week days.

Of course this will hamper their appearance in court as counsellors but I am persuaded that their only appearances in court should be in behalf of the taxpayers of Randall County who now pay them generously for their services.

At $11,730 a year, the district attorney should be on tap at all times in case other county officials need legal advice.

At more than $13,000 a year the county judge should be in his office in the court house in Canyon from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, to attend to the county's business--the chore for which we pay him more than $270 a week.

Umbarger Boy 13, Is Electrocuted

A 13-year-old Umbarger boy was electrocuted Monday morning apparently when he touched an aluminum irrigation pipe to an electrical power line.

Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Tuesday for Terry Ray Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ray Higgins.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery by LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Canyon.

The boy was pronounced dead on arrival about 2 p.m. at Neblett Hospital by Randall County Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson, acting as coroner.

Wilson ruled the death as accidental.

Officials said the boy was apparently hunting rabbits about 1/2 mile southwest of his home when the accident occurred.

His mother said she saw him last about 10 a.m., and became worried when he did not return home for lunch.

Mrs. Higgins and the boy's grandfather, Jim Higgins, found Terry near an irrigation well.

The grandfather said the boy was lying near the well. A length of irrigation pipe was also nearby.

He said a power line runs over the irrigation well.

Officials said Terry apparently ran a rabbit into the pipe, lifted it to get the rabbit out and touched it to the power line.

Survivors other than the parents and grandfather include sisters, Mrs. Glynda Warren of Amarillo and Rhonda of the home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Newton of Panhandle and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Forrest of Borger.

Influenza Increases

Incidence of influenza in Canyon has apparently increased this week, according to Dr. Dudley Moore, county health officer.

Dr. Moore said the flu, which he described as of the Hong Kong type, is mainly affecting high school-age, college-age and above-age persons.

He said the incidence is low in persons in their 60s or 70s.

He said the flu has increased since last Friday and Saturday.

Canyon has a supply of vaccine for the flu, he said, but he stressed that the vaccine would only be effective after two or three weeks.

He said a person taking the vaccine now might be benefited in January or February, but not now.

Court Votes Raises For Elective Officials

Randall County Commissioners Monday voted themselves and other county officials an extra Christmas present this year--a pay raise of 10 per cent.

Acting on a motion by B. R. Jones, the commissioners voted to raise the pay of county elective officials by 10 per cent except the district attorney and the sheriff, whose pay would be raised to the legal maximum.

Commissioners said elective officials last year got no pay raise.

Bill Butler was the only commissioner to vote against the motion.

He voiced opposition to commissioners getting a pay raise. Commissioners now make $4,800 per year.

The pay raises will affect the following:

District Attorney, from $8,700 to $11,730; Sheriff, from $8,700 to $11,730; justice of the peace number one, from $6,480 to $7,110; justice of the peace number four, from $6,300 to $6,930; treasurer, from $6,300 to $6,930; district clerk, from $7,380 to $8,118; county clerk, from $7,380 to $8,118; tax assessor-collector, to $8,118; and commissioners, from $4,800 to $5,280.

Jones also made a motion that commissioners' travel expenses be raised from 8 cents to 10 cents per mile, and car allowances be raised from $75 to $100 per month.

The commission was unanimous in its approval.

Commissioners indicated that raises for non-elective county employes will be discussed next month.

The commission also approved the new Randall County courthouse annex which has just been completed.

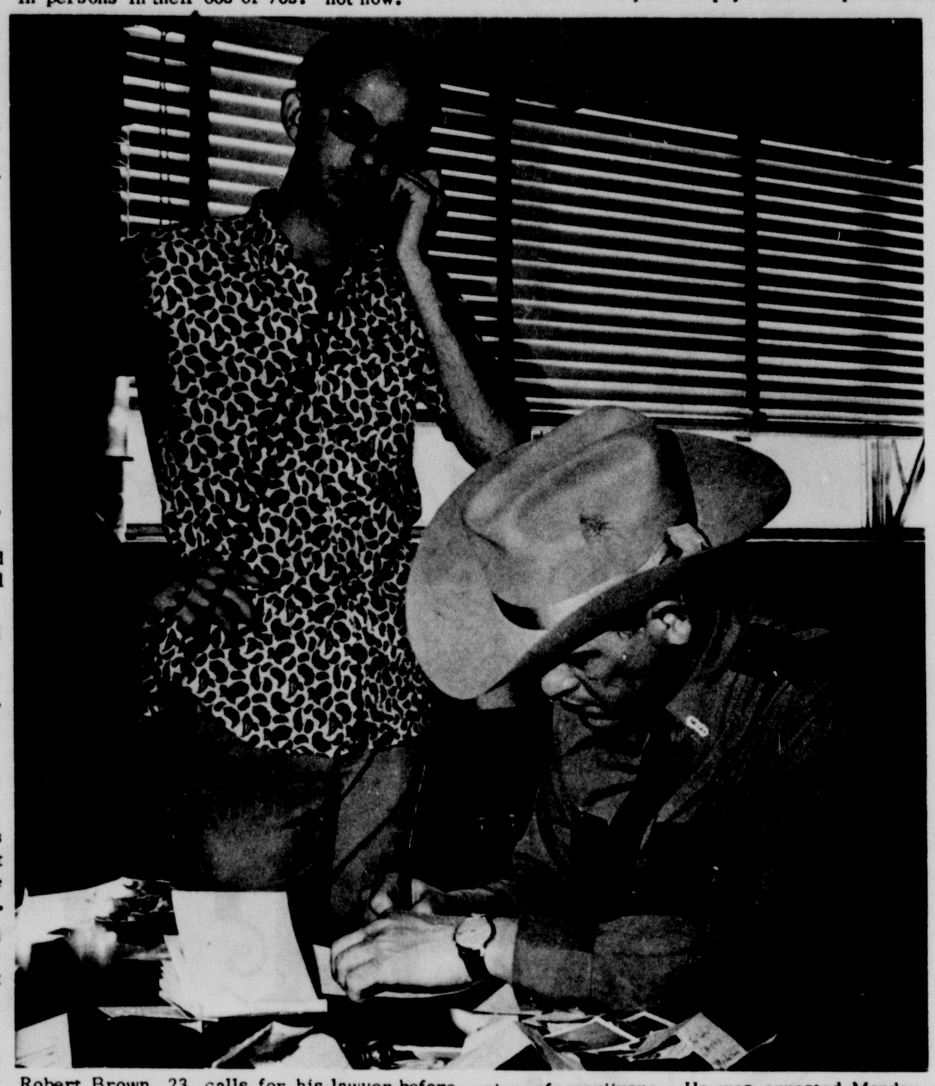
They accepted the building with the exception of minor items which are to be fixed. They withheld $4,700 from the fee pending this construction.

In other business, Shorty Flowers, commander of VFW Post 5681 in Canyon, called on the commission to hire a service officer for the Canyon area.

Flowers said he represents 341 men, most of whom feel the city needs a service officer.

Flowers recommended Roland Black be named for the position.

Commissioners said the job is open to applications.



Robert Brown, 23, calls for his lawyer before being arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson. Brown is charged with possession of marijuana. He was arrested Monday afternoon.

Guitar Teacher Arrested On Marijuana Charge

A 23-year-old Canyon guitar teacher was arrested at his trailer home about 3 p.m. Monday by city police and was later charged with possession of marijuana.

Robert William Brown, a former West Texas State University student, was arraigned before Randall County Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson on the charge.

He remained in Randall County jail Tuesday in lieu of $5,000 bond.

An informant working with police led to the arrest of Brown.

Randall County Criminal Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said Brown allegedly approached the informant at a Canyon restaurant about buying some marijuana.

Dowlen said the informant told Chief of Police Calvin Costley about the offer and Costley advised the youth to go through with the purchase as a police agent.

The informant allegedly bought a small amount of marijuana from Brown about 1 p.m. Friday and again at about 1 p.m. Monday, according to Costley.

Brown agreed to allow officers to search his trailer and he was subsequently arrested.

Brown was represented at the arraignment by City Atty. Elton Cox. He temporarily waived an examining trial.

Brown's marijuana charge was the third such charge in Randall County in a month.

Amarillo city police arrested Rip Hall McAlpine in his south Amarillo home on Dec. 5. McAlpine and a companion, William E. LaVene of Boston, Mass., were charged with possession of marijuana.

Brown's case will go before the Randall County Grand Jury on Jan. 6.

Wreck Hurts City Youths, Man Killed

A Canyon High School girl basketball player and an 18-year-old Canyon boy were injured late Saturday in a two-car, head-on collision which killed an Amarillo man.

Linda Kay Dudenhoeffer, a guard for the Canyon girl Eagles, was listed in good condition this week at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. Miss Dudenhoeffer, 16, lives north of Canyon.

Jackie Dean Thrasher, 18, was treated and released from the hospital Saturday night.

The accident, which occurred about 10:15 p.m. in the 5700 block of the Canyon Drive service road, resulted in the death of Ray Gene Robertson, 35, of Amarillo.

Robertson's car collided head-on with one driven by Thrasher.

Livestock Show Judges Are Selected

Several outstanding livestock judges will be on hand to place livestock at the 22nd annual Randall County Junior Livestock show in Canyon Jan. 10-11.

The classes of breeding cattle, both beef heifers and dairy heifers, will be judged by professors from the agriculture department at West Texas State University. Ralph Harbin and Kenneth Wilson will do the placing.

Earl Reynolds, superintendent of the horse show says that his committee will select a horse judge to place the entries in this department. The horse show will be moved to the W. T. Farm pavilion one mile north of Canyon. The facilities there will be an improvement over those used in the past.

Professor L. M. Hargraves of Texas Technological College in Lubbock will judge the large swine classes. Hargraves has judged some of the largest swine shows in the southwest.

Jerry Don Stockton will judge the lambs and steers. Stockton is the Agriculture teacher at Wolfforth, Texas.

The livestock Judging team from West Texas State University will serve as a sifting committee to pass on the quality of all barrows, lambs, and steers. Sifted animals cannot show or be sold in the sale. The fine work of this committee insures that only the very best of the market livestock will be shown and sold.

.....Our World.....

BY ANN BROWN

The Prince of Peace, whose birthday Christians are supposed to celebrate on December 25, teaches, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35). The only persons who doubt the wisdom of this concept are the ones who have never tried it.

Had the Johnson administration not overlooked this vital principle, the Poverty Program might have succeeded. As a rule, the more material things people are given, the more they demand, and the less they appreciate the giver. But an opportunity to make a contribution of their own, enhances their self esteem, and increases their respect for the one who gave them the chance to help themselves.

Most of us are just perverse enough to want to do our own giving; the more that is demanded of us, the less we are inclined to give.

Even the most devoted husband resents constant demands from his wife that he tell her he loves her. The average man feels that battling the hard, cold world every day and bringing home the fruit of his labors every payday to share with his wife is quite an eloquent declaration of love in itself.

And the expression of love that hard-working husbands usually appreciate most is a good meal served by a pleasant wife, in a comfortably clean house.

The most meaningful way a man can express his love for his family is to do his honest best to provide for their spiritual, material, and emotional needs. And the best way for a wife to show her devotion to her husband is to properly manage his home, his income, and his children.

Some women can spend more than any man could earn. A woman who wastes or mismanages her husband's money is disregarding his health, his happiness, and his welfare in general.

We all want to be happy. But happiness is something that the more we give away, the more we have to keep for ourselves.

Many people never find happiness because they are unaware of its basic source. The malcontents of this world will not find happiness through demanding--whether it be for "rights" or for guaranteed income. When their outrageous demands are met, they simply make more outrageous demands.

The greatest gift we can give at Christmas or any time is a genuine contribution to the happiness and welfare of others. Expensive items that wreck our budgets for months may be only "white elephants" to the recipients.

What would make your loved ones happy? Parents might try giving their children a little more patience and understanding. And children might show a little more respect for parental concern and authority.

The girl who helps her mother with the cooking, dishes, and housework is securing her own future as well as lifting her mother's burdens. And the boy who relieves his father of essential chores is learning to be a responsible adult while easing pressures and tensions in the home.

Anyone who really wants to be happy ought to concentrate his energies on his contributions to the world, rather than things he can get from it.

Unhappy people should try the Master's recipe; it's found in Luke 6:38.

Letter To The Editor

The Canyon News:

In this far away land, at Christmas time most of all, it was so very nice to receive the Christmas card from my home town.

I wish to thank the girl who wrote the poem, and thanks to the many who signed the card.

The award is made annually in memory of the late George "Farmer" Schaeffer, one of the original founders and long time booster of the county youth show.

LaVene To Take Test McAlpine Indicted

William LaVene of Boston, Mass., is to undergo a polygraph test this week in connection with a Dec. 5 narcotics raid on an Amarillo Apartment.

He will also appear before the grand jury at a later date.

Rip Hall McAlpine, 23, of the Manor Apartments in Amarillo, was indicted Wednesday by the Randall County Grand Jury on a charge of possession of marijuana.

McAlpine was arrested along with LaVene in the same raid. McAlpine was freed on $2,500 bond.

The two men were arrested following a two-month investigation by Amarillo police officers. Officers said they found several pieces of marijuana in the apartment as well as hypodermic syringes and pills.

Other indictments were returned against Marvin Guinn for driving while intoxicated, second offnese, and Gaylord Stroup, burglary by breaking.

Mrs. Jane Latimer of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sweet of Louisiana have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Latimer in Canyon.

Planned-Over Holiday Meals

BY BECKY HALL
Randall County Home Demonstration Agent

One of the nicest things about roasting a turkey is that the leftovers are as tasty as the first slices--cooked and ready to go into the most succulent of main dishes.

However it is important that cooked turkey be cared for properly. After the meal of roast turkey is over, the meat should be wrapped or placed in a covered dish to prevent drying out and loss of flavor, then refrigerated promptly.

If it is a stuffed bird, stuffing should be removed immediately from cavities, placed in a covered bowl and stored separately in the refrigerator.

Gravy, too, can be refrigerated or frozen for use later in some elegant dish.

Rather than thinking in terms of left-overs, one can have planned-over turkey combination dishes. Most of these main dishes freeze well and can be stored for a month or more.

For best results leave meat in large, compact pieces when possible. If frozen in small pieces, cover with gravy or sauce to prevent stale flavor.

Package in moisture-vapor-proof or resistant containers. Freeze dressing separately. Freeze almost any kind of creamed dish except those containing hard-cooked egg whites. Avoid overcooking and cool rapidly in a pan of ice water. Package in wide-mouth containers.

There is good flavor in every part of the turkey--from breast to back--and there are countless ways of using it.

After all the dressing and gravy have disappeared and those nice slices of turkey have been used up, there are sure to be several cupfuls of meaty chunks of your Christmas bird still left. This meat is perfect for Turkey Shortcake... Pieces of turkey plus a little ham in a rich gravy to be served over eight flaky biscuits. Use your own favorite biscuit recipe or use ready to cook biscuits.

For those who enjoy Mexican cookery you may want to try:

CHICKEN OR TURKEY TACO PIE

3-4 cups diced chicken or turkey
1 can enchilada sauce
1 can mushroom soup
1 large onion, chopped
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
dash of pepper
11 oz. pkg. corn chips
1 cup grated cheese
1 cup chicken broth

Combine turkey, enchilada sauce, mushroom soup, onion, garlic salt and pepper. Grease a two-quart baking dish and line with corn chips. Add turkey mixture and sprinkle top with grated cheese and cover with corn chips. Pour one cup chicken broth over mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 6. This dish freezes well and may be taken from the freezer and baked at 350 for about 1 1/2 hours before serving.

A variety of herbs, spices, sauces and other condiments make turkey fit any menu--whether American or foreign--for a family meal or company dinner.

A few recipes to select from would include:

CHICKEN TETRAZZINI

4 pound stewed chicken
1/4 cup chicken fat
2 Tsp. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
dash cayenne
chicken broth
8 oz. can mushrooms, drained
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
3 Tbsp. light cream
1 cup fine noodles
2 Tbsp. grated parmesan cheese
1 tsp. butter or margarine

Remove skin and bones from stewed chicken, cut meat into strips. Melt 2 Tbsp. chicken fat in double boiler and stir in flour, salt, cayenne and one cup of broth. Cook, stirring until thickened.

Saute mushrooms in remaining two tablespoons of chicken fat.

Into sauce slowly add egg yolk and combined cream. Add chicken and mushrooms and heat.

Cook noodles in remaining chicken broth (add water if necessary) for about 10 minutes until tender and then drain.

Arrange cooked noodles in shallow baking dish, pour on chicken, sprinkle with cheese and dot with butter or margarine. Brown under broiler. Serves 4-5.

Turkey leftovers may be used instead of the stewed chicken in this recipe.

CHOW MEIN

2 1/2 cups diced, cooked turkey or chicken
3 Tbsp. soy sauce
1 cup water
1 bunch celery, cut in 1/2 inch pieces
1 small onion, chopped
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/4 cup water
2 1/2 cups bean sprouts, drained
2 oz. can mushrooms
salt and pepper

Combine meat, soy sauce, one cup water, celery and onion. Simmer 1/2 hour until vegetables are crisp yet tender. Blend cornstarch and water and stir into mixture. Add bean sprouts and mushrooms. Heat through and season with salt and pepper.

Serve over cooked rice and sprinkle with chowmein noodles or in heated fried noodle baskets. Serves 6.

CHICKEN-BISCUIT PIE

1/4 cup butter, margarine or chicken fat
3 Tbsp. flour
2 cups chicken broth
1 tsp. salt
3 cups cooked chicken or turkey, cut in pieces
3 oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
3 Tbsp. sliced stuffed green olives
2 Tbsp. chopped pimento
1 cup packaged biscuit mix

Melt butter and blend in flour. Gradually add broth. Cook and stir until thick. Add remaining ingredients except the biscuit mix, heat thoroughly and then pour into a 8 x 1 1/2 inch baking dish. Prepare biscuit mix according to package directions and roll to about 1/2 inch thickness. Cut dough into 1 1/2 inch rounds and place on top of hot chicken. Bake at 450 degrees for 12-15 minutes until biscuits are done. Serves 5.

Ham is another holiday favorite with many ways to serve after the main dinner. Ham should be wrapped and refrigerated.

Refrigerated ham should be used in a few days, otherwise it will freeze well if wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof paper.

Large pieces freeze better than small ones.

Hilton-Miller Pledge Marriage Vows

Miss Deborah Sue Hilton and Frederick Thomas Miller were united in marriage Saturday, December 21, at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon with Rev. J. Frank Peery officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hilton of El Paso. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller of Canyon.

Baskets of white gladioli and spiral candelabra with intertwined greenery decorated the church. Mrs. Glenn Dowlen played traditional wedding music and John Brandon sang "If Ever I Would Leave You" and Steve Hilton, brother of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Bryan Hilton, brother of the bride, and Chris Moreland.

Cathy Gerald of Canyon was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Bourland and Melody Jones, both of Canyon. The bridal attendants wore identical gowns of forest green velvet and carried nosegays of white roses. Their headdresses were of matching green velvet.

Dave Cornett of Canyon was best man and groomsmen were Michael Miller, brother of the bridegroom, and John Winget, both of Canyon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of white silk organza over a white silk taffeta sheath with re-embroidered Belgium lace. Her bouquet was white roses and for something old she wore lace glovelets belonging to her maternal great-grandmother. Something borrowed was a handkerchief belonging to her paternal grandmother and the traditional blue garter and lucky penny in her shoe completed tradition.

Ushers for the wedding ceremony were Larry Robinson of White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico and Archie Scott of Hereford.

Fellowship Hall of the church was the site for a reception after the marriage ceremony. Serving at the bride's table were Melody Miller and Mrs. Michael Miller, sister and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Canyon where both are students at West Texas State University. The bride is majoring in pre-pharmacy at WTSU and the bridegroom's major is computer science. She is employed at the university and he is employed with the First National Bank in Amarillo.

Painting In Museum

"Koon Kreek," an oil painting by Reveau Bassett of Dallas, has been given to the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum by the artist.

The gallary sale price of the painting has been estimated at $10,800, according to C. Boone McClure, head of the museum.

The painting was appraised by Newman Long, a Dallas insurance executive and art collector.

The frame around the painting was hand-carved by Bassett some years ago after the fashion of the Newcomb-Necklin frames of Chicago, McClure said.

The frame is valued at $200, he said.

The painting of a creek in East Texas was exhibited at the museum last year as one of the outstanding paintings from the Dallas Chapter of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

The painting was altered by the artist, McClure said, since it hung in the museum last year. Trees and foliage were added to the picture and Long felt the additions made the painting much stronger, McClure said.

The painting will hang in the north gallery of the museum.

Bassett was born in Dallas. He was a student of Frank Reaugh and made many sketching trips with him.

He studied at the Art Student's League in New York and decided on painting as a profession in 1925 following the selection of two of his paintings for the One Hundredth Exhibition of the National Academy of Design in New York.

He has become recognized internationally for his paintings on waterfowl, wild ducks and wild geese in their natural habitat.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-2141, or stop by the News office on the west side of the square.

A painting, "Koon Kreek," by Reveau Bassett of Dallas has been given to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. C. Boone McClure stands beside the painting.

MRS. JIM EDWARD IVY

Double Ring Nuptials Unite Jarrett-Ivy

Miss Mamie Elizabeth Jarrett became the bride of Jim Edward Ivy in a double ring marriage ceremony performed Saturday evening by Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling at the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Patton Jarrett of Canyon and the late Dr. R. P. Jarrett. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edward Ivy of Fort Stockton.

The church was decorated with red carnations and poinsettias and white candles. Bruce Winn sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert Patton Jarrett, III, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a train extending from the skirt of the dress. Her gown featured an empire waistline with Alencon lace covering the bodice. The colonial length sleeves were also made of Alencon lace and were accented with ruffling. Her bridal veil was attached to a pillbox of Alencon lace and reached to shoulderlength.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Tomas William Rheinlander and Mrs. David Warren Skinner were matron of honor and bridesmatron respectively.

Candlelighters were the bride's cousins, Susan Caroline Williams and Karen Florence King.

Best man was Vic Wallace Ivy, brother of the bridegroom, and Scott Michaud was groomsman. Ushering were Scott Michaud and David Wofle.

Out-of-town guest registered for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Howard and Jerry Howard of Dallas, Mrs. B. J. King of Childress, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Batsell, grandparents of the bridegroom.

Fellowship Hall of the church was the site for the wedding reception where the bride's aunts, Mrs. Al Williams of Waco and Mrs. Felton King of Amarillo served punch. Serving cake were Mrs. R. F. Phillips and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson.

Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Charles Harter, Mrs. T. H. Lair, Mrs. James Murphy White, Mrs. W. J. Wooten, Jr., Mrs. Bernard Warren, Mrs. Joe Gibson, Mrs. W. F. Haggard, Mrs. A. K. Atlantic Ocean Rescue Of Dave Szymakowski

"All I could think of was that I was going to die. . ."

David J. Szymakowski, a former West Texas State University football player, made this statement Sunday after being rescued from the freezing Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Massachusetts.

Szymakowski, a rookie flanker back with the New Orleans Saints, was rescued by the Coast Guard after he was swept up by a 30-foot wave while taking pictures in a rocky area, according to the Associated Press.

Szymakowski was visiting Kenneth A. Noonan of Beverly, who was also hit by the wave. The men were taken by ambulance to a Gloucester hospital and were released after being treated for minor cuts, immersion and exposure.

Noonan managed to get away and tried to help Szymakowski. Residents who saw the accident notified the Coast Guard which dispatched a life-boat.

"I kept grabbing at the rocks, trying to hold on. I must have been in the water about 30 minutes. I kept thinking 'how much longer can I stay out here?' " Szymakowski told AP.

"Then I heard the motor of a boat. I thought I was imagining things. Finally I saw the boat. It approached, and a man threw me a lifesaver, which I grabbed onto," he said.

A Coast Guard said that if Szymakowski had not been in such good physical condition, the long immersion in the freezing water would have killed him.

Noonan said they were out on the rocks about 60 yards from solid land when the 30-foot wave swept up

"As I ran for shore I saw David swept up, feet first, and he came down in a sitting position," Noonan said.

Faculty Cites WT Freedom

More than 60 per cent of the academic faculty at West Texas State University approve of the academic freedom allowed by the university.

Faculty members, Olan J. Lehman and Frederick W. Rathjen, presented a statement signed by the faculty expressing this view to Dr. James P. Cornette, WTSU president, last week.

The statement was as follows:

"We, the undersigned faculty members, express our appreciation to Dr. James P. Cornette and other appropriate administrative officials for their contributions to the academic freedom and the intellectual freedom which we enjoy as members of the West Texas State University Faculty."

In a letter of transmittal, Lehman and Rathjen said that today, students, faculty, regents, alumni and others seem quick in attacking policies of college and university administrators. Yet, they said, they fail to note and express appreciation for those administrative policies in which they are in agreement.
